Singapore Cooperation Programme

Singapore has provided technical assistance to other developing countries since the 1960s. As a country whose only resource is its people, Singapore believes that human resource development is vital for economic and social progress. Singapore itself has benefited from training provided by other countries and international organisations.

In 1992, the Singapore Cooperation Programme (SCP) was established to bring together under one framework the various technical assistance programmes offered by Singapore. Through the SCP, the range and number of training programmes were increased to share Singapore's development experience with other developing countries.

To date, more than 160,000 officials from over 180 countries, territories and intergovernmental organisations have participated in our courses and study visits. The SCP is managed by the Technical Cooperation Directorate of the Singapore Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

Japan International Cooperation Agency

The Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA), one of Japan's Official Development Assistance (ODA) implementing bodies, has been extending technical cooperation in human resource development to facilitate the autonomous, sustainable development of developing countries since its establishment in 1974. From 2008, JICA was further strengthened to incorporate all activities of Japan's Official Development including concessional ODA loans and grant aid in an effective and efficient manner.

JICA will enhance the impact of assistance through (a) A More Strategic Framework to achieve medium-to-long term development goals of developing countries (b) More Predictable Aid as operational "rolling" plans will be utilised in policy dialogue with developing countries (c) Speedier Project Formulation through "Preparatory Survey" to ensure flexibility and speed at the project preparation stage (d) Assistance Tailored to Real Needs: Synergy of Aid Schemes to offer assistance that most effectively addresses the needs of developing countries.

Japan - Singapore Partnership Programme for the 21st Century (JSPP21)

As countries whose prime resources are their people, Singapore and Japan believe that human resource development is important for economic and social progress. With this mutual understanding, Singapore and Japan signed a Memorandum of Understanding in January 1994 to train participants from developing countries by sharing each country's expertise and experience from their economic development under the Japan - Singapore Partnership Programme (JSPP).

The Japan-Singapore Partnership Programme for the 21st Century (JSPP21) was established through a Memorandum of Discussion (MOD) signed in May 1997, to signify a widening of the scope of technical cooperation between Singapore and Japan. Since then, the MOD has been renewed three times, most recently in December 2018.

With a view to enhancing ASEAN integration and sharing the two countries' experience in their areas of expertise, both governments recognised, as areas of priority, training and capacity building for third countries in the fields of (a) security and peace, (b) addressing vulnerability, (c) private sector development, (d) connectivity, and (e) smart initiatives.

Since 1994, Singapore and Japan have implemented more than 400 training courses for more than 7,500 participants in diverse fields such as public governance, trade promotion, climate change and environment, community policing, disaster management, maritime navigation, tourism, and urban planning.

IPOS International

IPOS International is a wholly owned subsidiary of Intellectual Property Office of Singapore (IPOS), committed to building Singapore's future growth as a global hub for intellectual property (IP) creation, commercialisation and management. Housing over 100 IP Experts in areas such as IP strategy and management, patent search and analysis, and IP education and training, its mission is to catalyse industry and enterprise growth by providing IP and intangible asset (IA) expertise. It aims to empower enterprises, public agencies, and professionals in unlocking tangible value from their intangible assets (IA) and intellectual property (IP), through patent search and analysis, professional development programmes and IP management services.

Together with Intellectual Property of Singapore (IPOS), IPOS International works to anchor Singapore as a hub for global innovation flows where IA-rich enterprises can make today's ideas tomorrow's assets.

Course Objectives

This course is conducted under the auspices of the Japan-Singapore Partnership Programme for the 21st Century (JSPP21). The course will explore the opportunities and challenges arising from artificial intelligence (AI) and big data in the digital economy. It aims to equip government officials with an innovative mindset to develop effective AI and data governance frameworks that protect privacy and intellectual property while maximising economic benefits.

Synopsis

Topics to be covered include:

- Trends and Challenges in AI and Data Governance
- Cross-Border Data Transfer Tools
- IP Rights in the Digital Economy
- Singapore's and Japan's Approaches to AI and Data Governance
